

MachineTalker's Recent Acquisition Expected to Accelerate Sensor Market Entry (Marketwire via...

Contributed by Administrator
Last Updated Tuesday, 15 January 2008

MachineTalker, Inc., developer of smart wireless security networks and wireless environmental monitors, today reports that the company's most recent acquisition is expected to accelerate the company's move toward commercialization of its MEMS technology. The announcement of the acquisition of wireless micro-sensor technology dovetails with the company's strategy of pursuing the complete ...Read more at: Yahoo! News Search Results for wireless sensor

MachineTalker, Inc., developer of smart wireless security networks and wireless environmental monitors, today reports that the company's most recent acquisition is expected to accelerate the company's move toward commercialization of its MEMS technology. The announcement of the acquisition of wireless micro-sensor technology dovetails with the company's strategy of pursuing the complete ...Read more at: Yahoo! News Search Results for wireless sensor