

Coronis Systems, an Elster Company, and Essensium N.V., an IMEC Spin-off, Join Forces to Develop...

Contributed by Administrator
Last Updated Tuesday, 13 November 2007

MONTPELLIER, France & LEUVEN, Belgium---Coronis Systems a provider of ultra-low power wireless OEM solutions for both short range and long range wireless sensor, control and metering networks and Essensium N.V., a fabless semiconductor provider of low power System-on-Chip ASIC solutions, today announced an agreement to collaborate on the next generation Wavenis technology transceiver chip.Read more at: Yahoo! News Search Results for wireless sensor

MONTPELLIER, France & LEUVEN, Belgium---Coronis Systems a provider of ultra-low power wireless OEM solutions for both short range and long range wireless sensor, control and metering networks and Essensium N.V., a fabless semiconductor provider of low power System-on-Chip ASIC solutions, today announced an agreement to collaborate on the next generation Wavenis technology transceiver chip.Read more at: Yahoo! News Search Results for wireless sensor