

Grape Networks Introduces Soil Moisture Sensors, an Enhancement of Their Mobile Microclimate...

Contributed by Administrator
Last Updated Tuesday, 20 November 2007

SAN RAMON, Calif.----Grape Networks today announced that the Company will be deploying Soil Moisture Sensors in addition to Light, Temperature and Humidity. The data includes the exact location of the sensor modules, and critical vineyard and wine grape information on Powdery Mildew and Degree Days in the vineyard.Read more at: Yahoo! News Search Results for wireless sensor

SAN RAMON, Calif.----Grape Networks today announced that the Company will be deploying Soil Moisture Sensors in addition to Light, Temperature and Humidity. The data includes the exact location of the sensor modules, and critical vineyard and wine grape information on Powdery Mildew and Degree Days in the vineyard.Read more at: Yahoo! News Search Results for wireless sensor